We, the Senior Class of 1935,
respectfully dedicate our Year Book to E. Evans Carr, our sincere friend and instructor.

Mr. Carr, a graduate of Alfred
University, entered Lynbrook High School four years ago, and by his patience and willingness to cooperate readily gained student favor.

CLASS HISTORY

*And now comes this
"Last scene of all,
That ends our strange
Eventful" high school
History.*

Adapted from "AS YOU LIKE IT."

OUR years ago, we, the class of '35, entered Lynbrook High School as Freshman, determined to prove that we were going to uphold the high traditions that have always characterized our beloved school. We elected as our class officers, Virginia Wingert as president, Norman Bennett as vice-president, Ruth Curtis as secretary and treasurer.

They were an excellent executive staff and one that was able to lead the class if not to victory in Class Night at least to third place, a truly auspicious achievement for Freshman. Later on in the year we presented the play, "Knives of Syria" on dramatic class night, a well acted play featuring Jean Sharkey, Adelaide Miller and George Galloway.

We came back the next year as sophomores, lacking the valuable helper, Virginia Wingert, who was forced to leave school a year because of illness. However, we soon elected just as capable a president in Waldron Petersen, better known as Wally. Marcelle Homme was selected as vice-president, William Lessells as secretary and treasurer. Our class was kept bustling and we started to bring '35 to the top. Our efforts in Class Night were similar to the previous year, but we began to bloom in school sports. Every sport boasted a Sophomore representative, and we were determined as we left school that year to increase our prestige as juniors.

We returned with increasing pep and vigor and reelected Wally Petersen as president. Wally had now come up in sports and proved his versatility by his acting in the junior play which also featured Louise McIntyre and John Krull. Janet Alder was our new vice-president, Walter Cotton, secretary, and Charles Mackenzie treasurer. We were again unsuccessful at Class Night, but surprised the student body with an excellent presentation of "The Cat and the Canary." It is the opinion of many that this was the best play ever put on in Lynbrook High School. Once again we distinguished ourselves in athletics and were confident that our Senior Year would be a success.

John Krull was our choice for president and under his capable leadership we rose to second place in Class Night, aided and abetted by such personalities as Charles Mackenzie, vice-president, Mildred White, secretary, and Walter Cotton, treasurer. We followed this up with a dynamic presentation of "Once in a Lifetime," a comedy again featuring sterling acting on the part of our class, especially Louise McIntyre and Wally Petersen. Still not satisfied, we added to our prestige with an entertaining social function, the senior dance. The varsity athletic teams were well represented with seniors and we can close our stay in Lynbrook High School proud of our record.

We are now on the brink of entering new fields. Some will go to college and others will enter business, but we can all resolve to keep up the standard that we have set for ourselves as we advance in the future.

THE GREEN AND GOLD

INFORMAL SNAPS

JUNIORS

As Freshmen we established a brilliant record, as Sophomores we upheld it worthily, but as Juniors we surpassed ourselves. For unfailing cheer and good sense, RICHARD HEALY, our perpetual President has no equal. Other officers: Vice-President, WALTER HAWTHORNE; Secretary, ANNCHEH HARGER; Treasurer, ROY WOOD. With these able personalities at the head we were a sure success.

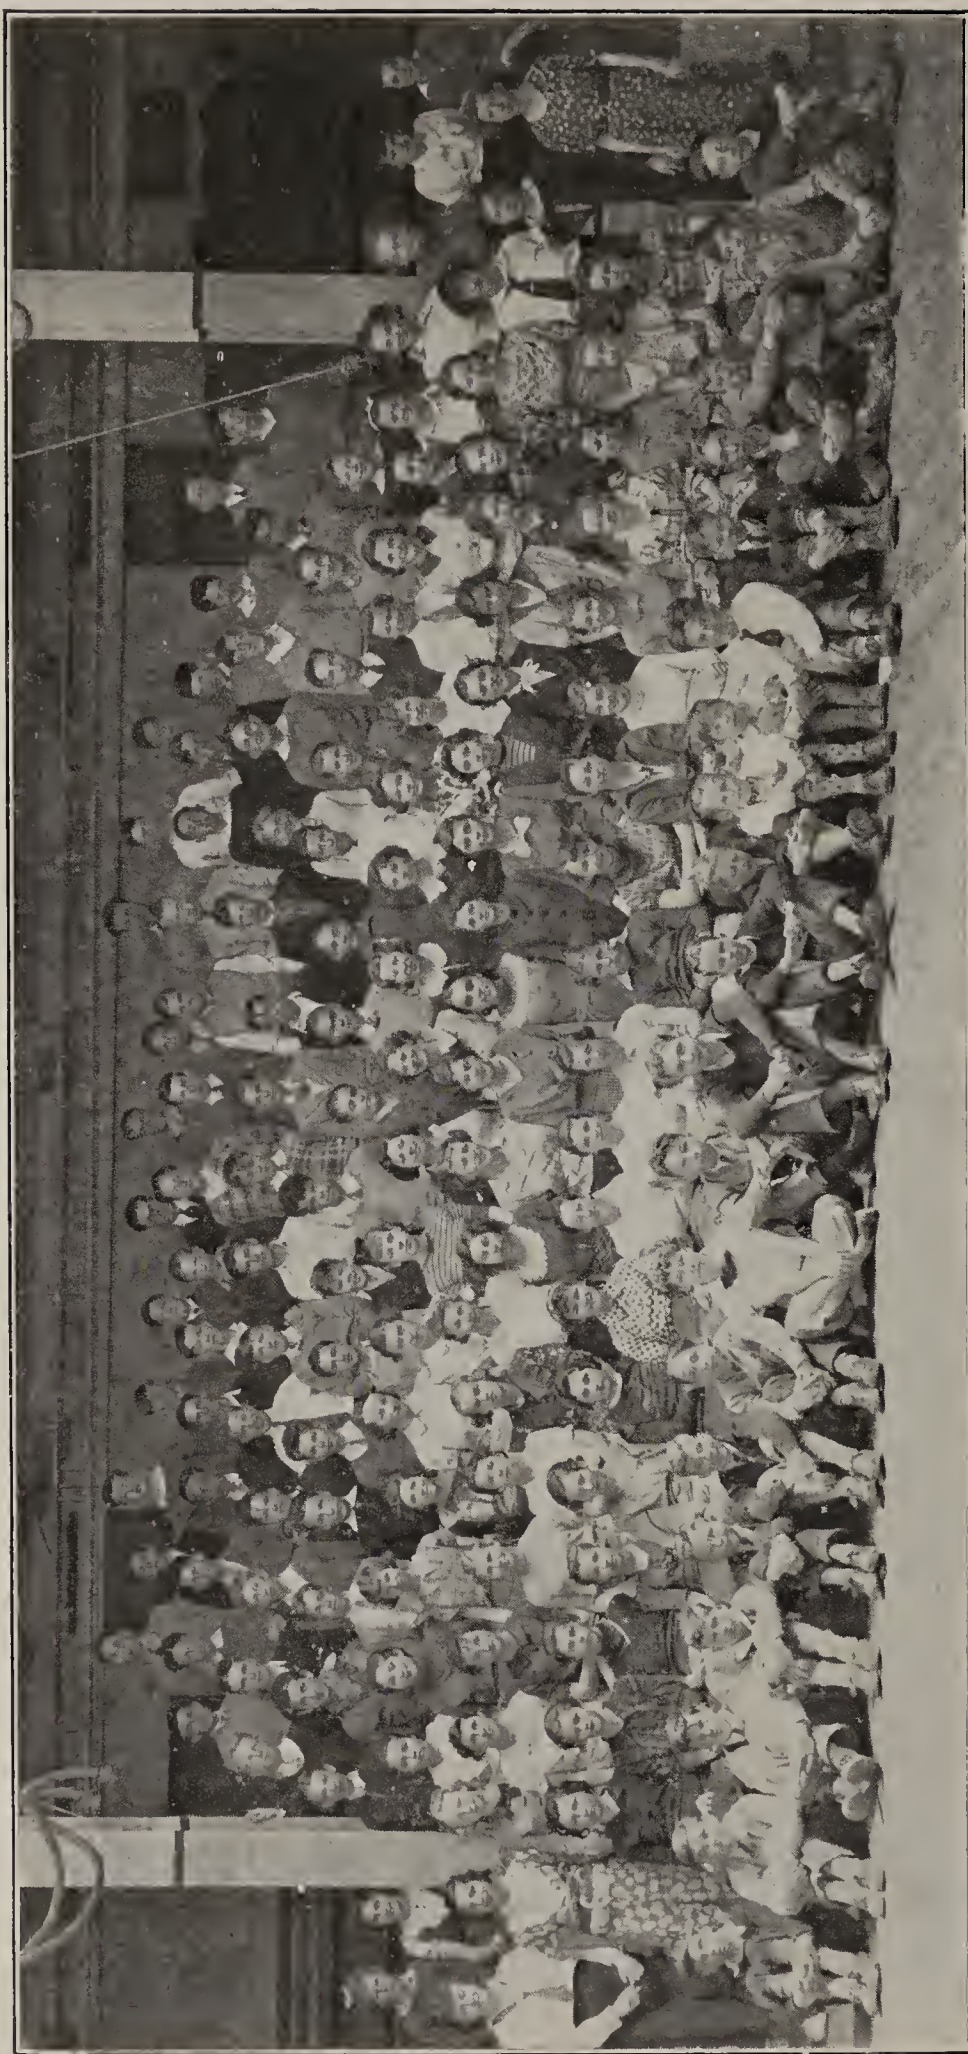

In the line of true masterpieces lies the presentation of our Junior play, "The Ghost Train." Our lads and lassies worked mighty hard under their able instructress, with results extremely gratifying to all our hearts. Watch for us next year, the dark clouds on the horizon.

SOPHOMORES

The Sophomore class of 1934-35 started the term by selecting the following students to uphold the class traditions: President, WILLIAM FROST; Vice-President, BETTY OAKLEY; Secretary, LORRAINE VERGESSLICH; Treasurer, DOROTHY MOORE. We entered Class Night with great expectations that failed to materialize. However, though we finished last, our cheerleaders were "the top". Our class was well represented in the athletic field. Every sport boasted a sophomore. Our class was active in social events. Many sophomores were continually present at High School functions.

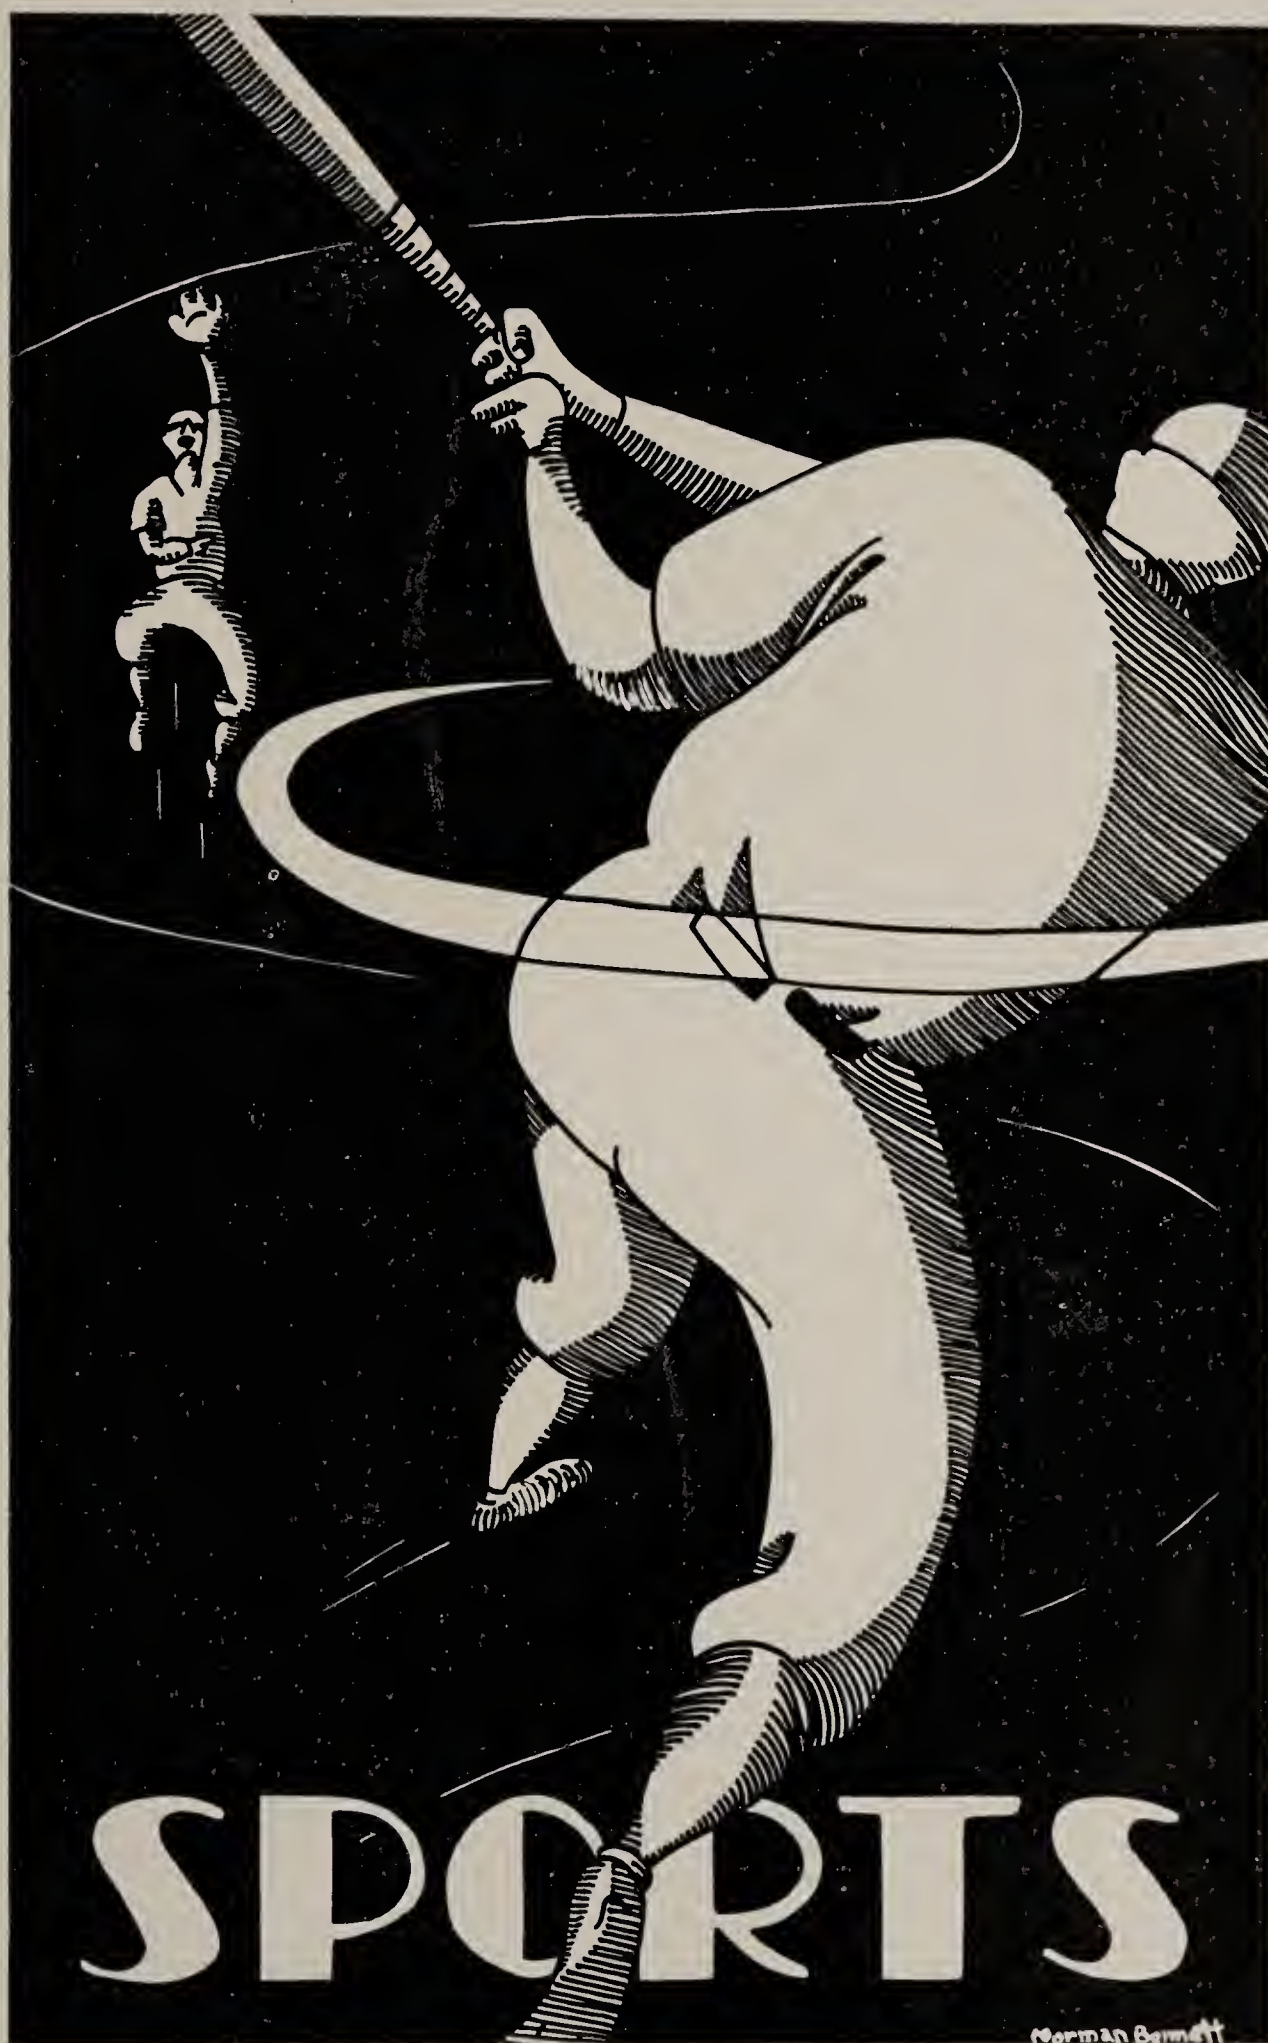

We are looking forward to our Junior year with confidence that we will uphold the standards of Lynbrook High School.

FRESHMEN

The Freshmen, proverbial scholastic worms, began the year by electing class officers as follows: President, DANIEL EAGAN; Vice-President, FRANK BOESCH; Secretary, DORIS CAIN; Treasurer, DONALD BROCKWEHL. Of course the highlight and thrill of the year was the Freshmen Class Night victory, a rare accomplishment, and won through sheer hard work and ingenuity. The decorations were interesting, and made a good showing. This was the first Freshmen class to inaugurate, with moderate success, social dancing, devised to give grace and confidence to shy lads and lassies. Dramatic efforts gave hint of great promise and hope of better things to come. If the class of '38 has any outstanding characteristic, it is that of whole-hearted co-operation, and with this attribute, it should go far.

FOOTBALL

LYNBROOK opened the 1934 gridiron campaign with only three of last year's regulars in the line-up. The first three games, however, proved a setback to a darkened pre-season forecast, with Sewanhaka, Malverne and Chaminade in defeat, respectively: 6-0, 6-0, 7-6. After a long trip to East Hampton our boys were vanquished 18-0. Next came the election day classic, Lynbrook's traditional battle against Central, where 4,000 wild fans saw the "Big Green Wave" come through 9-6. In the next tilt Lynbrook was forced to second place by losing to Baldwin 6-0 on a long forward pass. In the closing part of the year Coach Covert's charges romped over Lawrence, scoring 25 points to Lawrence's 0.

This year's team comprised Kennedy, Willett and Walsh, ends; Kniaz, Krull and Stevenson, tackles; Husing and Folan (Captain), quarterback; Friedman, halfback; Petersen, fullback, and Tupper, Frost and Kemper, blocking backs.

Coach Covert turned out a record team on the principle of clean sportsmanship and cooperation. He deserves much credit for producing such a team with a minimum of experienced material.

BOYS' BASKETBALL

LYNBROOK HIGH started the basketball campaign with two regulars from last year and otherwise a very "green" team. However, our hopes were high for a championship when they vanquished Mineola, 20-18; Alumni, 29-20; Great Neck, 19-18; South Side, 20-18; Central, 19-16; only losing to Baldwin, 26-13. After exams we lost two first string men and proceeded to lose to Lawrence, 21-20. With the return of Cliff Clinton, who had been out with a broken leg, the team seemed inspired and overtook Malverne, 26-18; and South Side, 18-22; only to be pushed out of the league race by losing two in a row to Central, 28-19; and Baldwin, 36-15. The boys seemed to resent these defeats and remembering that Lynbrook had not won a cage tilt from Lawrence for three years went out and defeated them 29-19.

Thus Coach Covert's basketeters ended their 34-35 campaign in a triple tie for second place in the Class "A" League. The first team consisted of C. Clinton, W. Hawthorne, W. Schmitt, L. Willett, H. Stevenson, J. Folan, W. Petersen, F. Walsh, C. Jackson, and E. Boarer.

Credit is due to the "Silver Fox" for the time and inspiration he put into this snappy, fighting, Green and Gold Team.

GIRLS' VARSITY BASKETBALL

OUR girls' Basketball team presented a formidable array of stars in this year's lineup. While we did not win the championship, we were very close to the top, coming in third in the Class "A" League.

Ruth Timmerman, our lanky sharpshooter, Helen Dickerson, captain elect, and diminutive Grace Bastedo were a dynamic offensive trio. Mildred Dankwert, Ruth McMahon, and Dorothy Ziegler played a defensive game.

It is an old saying that a team is only as good as its substitutes. Our team proved this by such players as Susan Russell, Eleanor Baldwin, Gertrude Fitzgerald, Viola Carmody and Martha Olsen.

Our schedule was hard and well fought: Alumni, 32 - Lynbrook, 14; Southside, 20 - Lynbrook, 16; Baldwin, 21 - Lynbrook, 26; Lawrence, 42 - Lynbrook, 26; Malverne, 23 - Lynbrook, 27; Central, 17 - Lynbrook, 28; Southside, 25 - Lynbrook, 19; Baldwin, 12 - Lynbrook, 43; Lawrence, 34 - Lynbrook, 11.

To Miss Budd, our coach and abettor, we give our thanks and gratitude, for her whole-hearted cooperation in making our 1934-35 season a success. To the veterans of 1935-36 season, we wish success and a fervent hope for a championship team.

BOYS' BASEBALL

ROSPECTS were bright this year for the Green and Gold to hold the baseball championship. Five veterans returned and we gained additional battling punch with the addition of four new players.

The boys started out their year with a long but very enjoyable journey to play the Wesleyan College Freshmen and proved that they could be champions by beating the Frosh 9-5, under the steady pitching of Stevenson and the batting power of Husing, Bradley and Boarer.

The remainder of their tough schedule of fourteen games from April 20 to June 4 was completed in fine fashion.

The team consisted of: Pitcher - Peterson, Stevenson, Jennings, and Mehrer; Catcher - Folan and Mackenzie; First Base - Bradley, Captain; Second Base - Clinton; Shortstop - Kniaz; Third Base - Tucker; Outfielders - Boarer, Eevan, Husing, and Cotton.

The '35 team was full of spirit and was always on the go. This year witnessed a battle for every position on the team. There were surprises to the student body in every starting lineup. The best man in every respect got the position. There was no room for slackers on this spirited team.

We have only our handsome coach, Sidney R. Covert, to thank for presenting this team, which so successfully fought for its deserved honors.

GIRLS' BASEBALL

WAT! Is it a home run? There goes Frances Dalton, captain of the team, streaking past first, second, third base . . . She is home! Another victory for Lynbrook's sterling girls' baseball team.

The squad and team is entirely composed of last year's veterans. Betty Johnson, Madeline Capparelli, Dorothy Moore, Margaret Stoutenberg, Betty Oakley, Edna Knäpp, and Beatrice Otto make up the personnel of this year's team. Such newcomers as Lois Walton, and Mildred Dankwert should go far towards making the 1935 season interesting.

Coached by Miss Pirie, this year's aspirants should be similar in style to Babe Ruth, and Lou Gehrig. These girls are full of pep and are determined to make the erstwhile boys' sport, one which will in the future familiarize itself with girls.

The schedule for this year is: April 26 - Central; May 2 - Woodmere; May 16 - Baldwin; May 23 - Malverne; June 5 - Port Washington; June 8 - Oceanside.

Last year our Baseball Team showed fine skill for a newly-formed team. They should be doubly good this year and perhaps will win the championship.

BOYS' TRACK

HIS YEAR we have seen the largest and most enthusiastic answer to the call for candidates of the Boys' Track Team. Over fifty boys turned out and this number steadily grew as the season progressed.

From last year's predictions, we were to have a fairly good track team with five stars returning, namely: George Scannell, John Thuren, Andy Friedman, John Krull, and Alfred Obrist. However, before the first practice, John Thuren had graduated, and Andy had moved away.

The rest of the point scoring has been left to: Krull, running the 100, 200, and the relay; Obrist in the 880; Frost a fast newcomer, Tupper and Askin the 440; Charvat and Sealy in the mile; Donovan in the hurdles; Olmstead in the pole-vault; Willett in the high jump; and Big Jack Craig heaving the shot-putt.

A championship team is far from impossible and no matter where we end, Coach Carr will be satisfied that his efforts towards a clean, hard-fighting squad have not been in vain.

GIRLS' TRACK

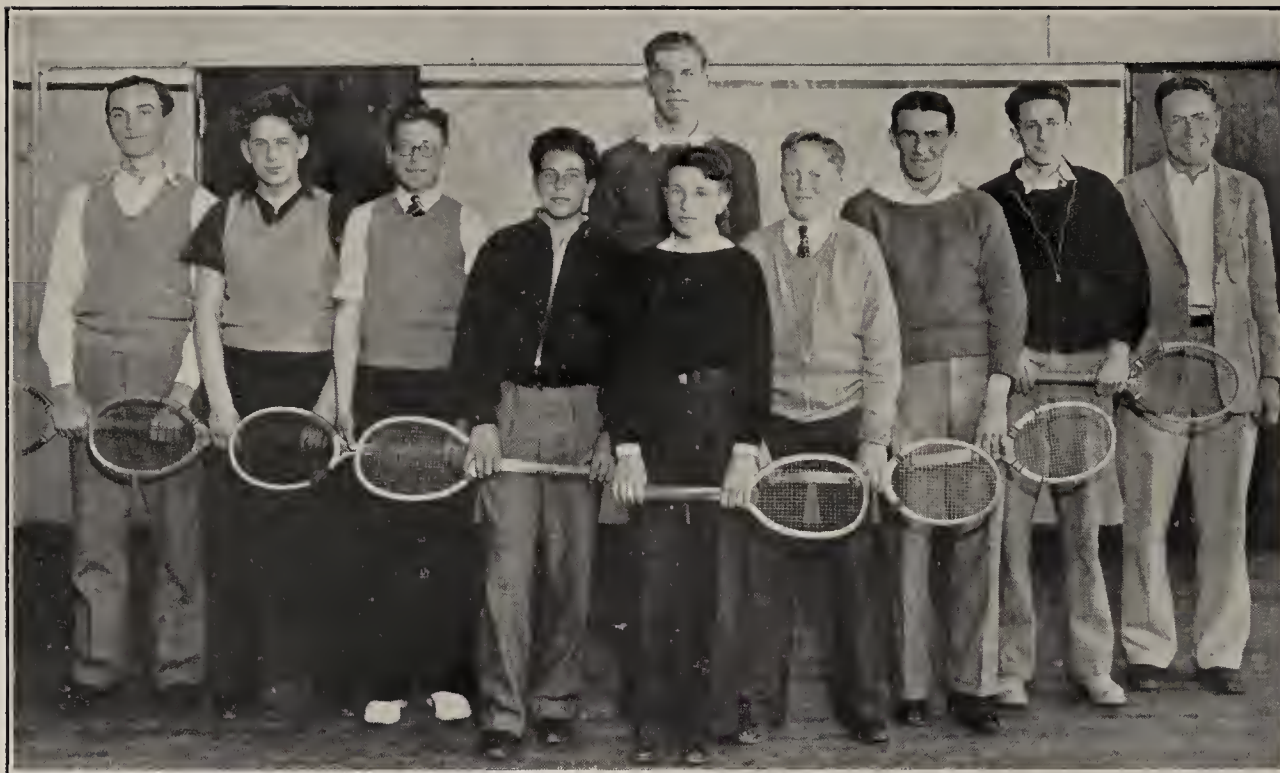

HIS SEASON there were approximately 70 contestants out for track, the largest number ever drawn for a sport. This number added to a few track stars promised a successful Spring.

Lanky Ruth Timmerman, as high jumper, and Martha Olsen, Winifred Mitchell, Helen David, Grace O'Brien, Elsa Lass, Celia Gibson, Eleanor Dibble, and Pat Bevan as runners along with the other newcomers, made it possible for Lynbrook's track team to leave the opposing team's men "in the dust."

Miss Budd arranged a track schedule that was heavy and difficult to tackle. The season opened with an inter-class meet on May 1, at home. Following this was the Oceanside tilt May 8; May 13, a triangular meet with Centra and Baldwin; May 15, Long Beach; May 22, Woodmere; May 29, Southside; June 5, Lawrence; on June 8, the league track finals in which all the schools participated.

We have every confidence that this group of girls will become the fastest and best track team on the Island and will show the other schools some real good running.

BOYS' TENNIS

T THE call for candidates for the tennis team, 30 eager enthusiasts of this sport signed up. From this number a squad of nine, playing manager Bill Ackerson inclusive, were chosen to defend the tennis laurels of L. H. S. There were no veterans due to a new sport rule that no person can participate in two major sports at the same time.

This large squad of nine was kept throughout the season, so that next year's team will have experienced players and not all green men as was the case this year.

The schedule consisted of home games with Baldwin, Long Beach, Woodmere, and Southside; and outside games with Central, Lawrence, Malverne and Oceanside. As a large added attraction, there was arranged a match with the faculty team at the Marion Street courts.

The members of the team are: W. Ackerson, L. Kirsch, S. Beckman, E. Kriegshaber, F. Harger, W. Holmes, T. Harrigan, W. Johnstone, and H. Timmerman.

GIRLS' TENNIS

NO SOONER had the courts been rolled and taped than a bevy of girls armed to the hilt with racquets and sneakers swarmed around the Marion Street courts, ready for action.

The loss of five of last year's veterans was sorely felt, but new, ambitious material was ready to fill in the gap.

Virginia Wingert, and Ruth McMahon, two of our foremost racqueteers, were left from last year's team and they played a fine singles game, aided and abetted by such players as Mildred Schill, Ruth Romyns, Marjorie Romyns, Vivian Baker, Viola Carmody, Dorothy Binenbaum, and Gertrude Fitzgerald, who showed skill and judgment in playing their matches, making up the doubles team.

The schedule consisted of 5 home games, and 4 away, with Baldwin, Long Beach, Woodmere, Southside, Central, Lawrence, Malverne, and Ocean-side.

The lack of a coach made little or no difference to these girls. They went into hard-fought matches with nothing behind them but lots of hard, conscientious practice, and the will to win.

WRESTLING

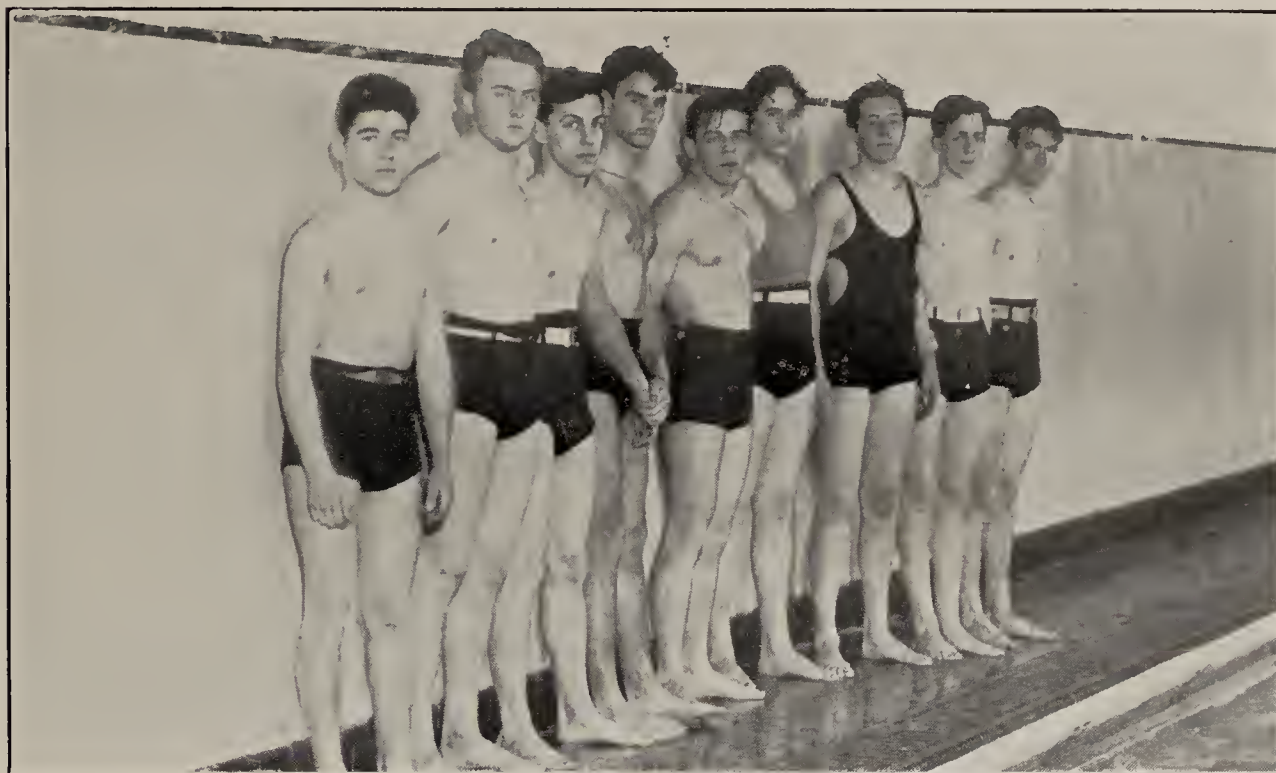

WHEN Coach E. Evans Carr called for candidates for the wrestling team, he was greeted by 42 enthusiastic young men, John Krull, and M. Arnold being the only veterans. As the year went on the number of wrestlers increased until there were over 60 boys practicing each night.

As the season came to a close, Lynbrook entered the tournament held at Central and Joe La Rocco, George Schmitt, Charles Tupper and Blazzio Mariano fought their way to the semi-finals, Lynbrook taking third place with 39 points.

Charles Tupper was the high individual scorer with $24\frac{1}{4}$ points. George Schmitt had the best record with 5 wins out of 6 meets, totaling 18 points.

Coach Carr worked untiringly with the boys in Lynbrook's third year of wrestling and ended the season by presenting the following boys with major and minor letters: Major - G. Schmitt, C. Tupper, J. La Rocco, H. Greenstein, J. Krull, M. Arnold, I. Daigon and manager Dawsin Askin; Minor - Voges, Douglass, Muro, Scaglione, Mariano, Tschan, Abouaf, Wozar, Briggs, and Abrams.

BOYS' SWIMMING TEAM

HE boys' swimming team started off the year with but a small number of men. They decided, although handicapped by insufficient men and support, to make something of their team. Miss Budd was appointed coach and under her able direction, many new things about swimming were learned.

Although not very successful against other high schools, the team was placed in the South Shore Championships, besides winning a few individual honors. Don Galloway was elected captain and Gene Raff appointed manager.

The team swam against Long Beach, Baldwin, South Side, Lawrence, and also against Far Rockaway.

The members of the team are Don Galloway, Gene Raff, John Moore, Phil Barbarie, Daniel Lynch, Henry Greenstein, Sol Beckmann, Ray Sault, Horace Mitchel, and Richard Brower.

The major difficulty seemed to be the distance from a pool for winter practice; but as the squad is composed almost entirely of underclassmen, it is hoped that another year will see an improvement in both interest and skill.

CHEERLEADING

YNBROOK has this year seen the most energetic and ambitious cheering squad since its inauguration.

To show the enthusiasm by which cheerleading has taken the school, when a call was issued for candidates, 75 erstwhile students turned out, of which Eugene Thompson, Lillian Powell, Bradford

Ilsey, and Robert Humphrey were chosen to aid the veterans, Jeanette Donaldson, Mildred White, Janet Alder, and Mary Frances McDermott. This squad of eight worked untiringly—practicing and thinking of new cheers and new ideas. Their thoughts were successful and many new cheers were heard. Besides these new yells the cheerleaders worked on an idea of theirs in bringing a group of students together as a regular cheering section, where we found our strong-voiced students. Cheers were heard ringing in our ears throughout every game, inspiring our athletes to fight on to victory. There is nothing more inspiring to a player than to hear the full support of the student body yelling him on to victory, and that is what our teams had.

So it's congratulations to a fine supporting student body and most of all to the hardest-working and best-looking cheerleaders that anyone has seen!

GIRLS' INTRAMURAL BASKETBALL

UCH praise goes to the Girls' Intramural Basketball team. All during basketball season they worked to improve their technique, and at the same time, they were having good clean sport and fun.

Under the able leadership of Miss Jean Pirie, who gave her valuable time and cooperation to the girls, the season was a big success.

Team number one, the winner, captained by Miss Frances Hoy, are sure to be varsity material next season, if they are not lost by graduation. Those who aided our Fran to victory were: Annetta Cole, Carolyn Schempp, Jean Housman, Winifred Mitchell, Mae Arnold, Doris Dies, and Ruth Borge.

Second place was captured by Miss Elsa Lass's team, made up of Marilyn Denyse, Virginia Hinchcliffe, Betty Fyme, Betty Hendricks, Mary Hamlin, Helen Steinberg, and Dorothy Frost.

Madeline Capparelli and June Ekman devoted their services as managers. Both groups received numerals with Miss Ekman as Senior manager, receiving a four inch L.

HOCKEY

THE 1935 edition of the Green and Gold hockey team made its initial bow to the metropolitan ice fans when they bowed 2-0 to Boys' High, at the Brooklyn Palace. Next came Poly Prep, who dumped us for a 8-0 beating. The Brennanmen came back strong by nosing out the West Hempstead Boys' Club, 4-3; however, Brooklyn Prep snapped our win streak by handling us a tough one to swallow, 1-0. Lynbrook regained their winning ways by downing the Lakeview H. C. by a 6-5 count. Rockville Center was the next of our victims and we snowed them under 5-0. The Blue and Gold of Baldwin fought our boys to a 0-0 deadlock, before a large Sabbath gathering. Manual Training and the Caydets of La-Salle dropped us to defeat by 5-2 and 7-2 scores. St. John's and Jamaica licked us 6-1 and 4-0 in games at Brooklyn. In the final game of the season before a capacity crowd of more than 1,000 people at the Brooklyn Ice Palace, the Green and Gold team snapped the win streak of the sensational St. Francis outfit by holding them to a scoreless tie. The New York sport writers paid tribute in no uncertain phrases to Coach Brennan's fighting squad.

John Dalston was 1935 captain-elect and those on the squad who were instrumental in aiding this fighting outfit were: Jack Husing, Doug Mehrer, Dave Woog, Howard Braeutigam, Gordon Haywood, and Captain John Dalston.

GOLF CLUB

OLF seems to have been more enthusiastically participated in this year than in any former year. The team proved its strength by winning many of their matches with a 5-0 score.

The members of the golf team were: Richard Cort, Howard Olmstead, Edward Roberts, Nicholas Cort - Captain, Cornelius Dorsey, and Cedric Costanzo, Manager.

Most of the tournaments were played at our home course, which is Oceanside. Those who missed the opportunity to come and see the team play surely missed something.

Just imagine the team playing on a well-kept, rolling fairway, greens of unbelievable smoothness, and last of all, in places on the golf course where a player usually makes use of his English language. Incidentally, these places are called sand traps.

There is no doubt but that next year there will be many new players added to the golf team.

BOYS' BOWLING

HE Green and Gold were well represented in bowling, when the team under the expert guidance of J. Ray Johnson, took the South Shore League Bowling Championship.

The season opened with a win over the alumni and the team continued in fine form coming through with wins over Central, South Side, Malverne and the Faculty. However, both Central and Malverne came back and handed us a defeat. The Faculty once more won the annual series taking 2 out of 3 from the pupils. Joe Beiler was captain-elect and the rest of the team which brought Lynbrook its first Bowling Championship were: Al Black, Dug Mehrer, Frank Blake, George Douglass, with Howard Brautigam, Bud Ekelman, Harry Bevan and Len Olmstead in reserve. The season's record for Johnson's outfit included six wins and four losses.

GIRLS' BOWLING

HE Girls' Bowling was organized November, 1934, with Mrs. Carmen, a very able leader and instructor. After a few weeks' practice, teams A and B were organized as follows: Team A: Florence Pearson, Edna Pearson, Ethel Oldenstaldt, Ella Kozich, and Lillian Rainey. Team B: Marie Duysters, Millie Dickerson, Dorothy Libby, Dorothy Walton and Betty Mott.

The teams received their league schedule in February and followed it out with success. They played Rockville Centre, Valley Stream, Baldwin, Lawrence, and Malverne, 2 matches with each school, winning 7 out of 8 with 2 forfeit games.

The girls enjoyed bowling very much and enjoyed working together in making a record for themselves. They intend to continue their bowling next year in competing with other schools and hope to make a better record than this year.

Marie Duysters, Manager; and Edna Pearson, Captain; together with Mrs. Carmen, worked continually in making a success of their teams.

INTRAMURAL COACHES

MISS PIRIE started her career as an undergraduate of Lynbrook High. She captained the 1931-32 Varsity Basketball team and acted as coach for classmate teams. She proved her versatility by responding with skill and willingness to participate in various activities and entertainment programs. Her two years as Secretary to Mr. Carter have found her carrying out the same spirit of helpfulness in her important position. Miss Pirie has been a great aid to Miss Budd and the girls, teaching them the proper technique of the sport world.

MR. WILLIAM PEARSALL, all-around Rutgers University athlete, came to Lynbrook High in 1928. A member of the football team for three years, starring in basketball and boxing, Mr. Pearsall was outstanding in his athletic ability. Lynbrook High had the good fortune of having Mr. Pearsall to teach European History in our midst. Outside activities soon had his attention, and he has been sole intramural coach since the first year of his arrival. He has used his skill to the best advantage in drilling our boys to Varsity status.

MR. JOHNSON, our popular teacher and advisor, graduated from Waynesburg College, Pennsylvania. Here he was active in the debating field, proving himself worthy of membership in Tau Kappa Alpha, a debator's fraternity. Since his arrival in Lynbrook High three years ago, Mr. Johnson has not only organized the charter chapter of Hi-Y, but has managed boys' handball and bowling. Because of his vivid personality, and willingness to cooperate, Mr. Johnson has endeared himself in the hearts of every high school student.

SENIOR PLAY

OLLYWOOD EXPOSED! It's always an interesting subject, but it's never been done as daringly as in "Once in a Lifetime", the Broadway production as given by the senior class. The audience agreed that it was one of the most successful ever given in Lynbrook High School.

The plot of this farce concerns three vaudeville stars; George

Lewis (Wally Petersen), who is just too dumb to live; Jerry Hyland (Brewster Chamberlin), who sells the vaudeville act for a ticket to Hollywood; and May Daniels (Louise McIntyre), the brains of the team and the object of Jerry's affections.

These three young people decide that Hollywood simply can't do without them, so they start for the coast. May decides that they will have a voice school, since talkies have just arrived and she knows that most of the actors and actresses can't talk intelligently. Not that George can, but what has that to do with it?

On the coast bound for Hollywood, May meets an old friend. This girl, Helen Hobard (Jacqueline Villa) has become one of the most successful writers in America. George meets a young lady, Susan Walker (Dorothea Mulhern) who is almost as dumb as himself. Susan believes she is a great actress, and she is going to Hollywood with her mother (Dorothy Frost). It's love at first sight with George and Susan.

When they finally arrive at Hollywood, the fun begins. First, through Helen's influence, May, Jerry, and George meet Herman Glogauer (Robert White), who is one of the important men there. George tries to convince Glogauer that Susan is really a great little actress. In Glogauer's office, Miss Leighton (Ruth Curtis), a high-hat secretary, is keeping a brilliant young writer Lawrence Vail (Norman Bennett), cooling his heels for months waiting for an assignment.

May realizes that all is not well, and when George is assigned to direct a picture, she is sure of it. After speaking her mind to Jerry, May starts for home. On the way, she receives a telegram from George, telling her the picture was colossal, Susan is the newest rave, and he needs her because Jerry has disappeared. Needless to say, May returns to Hollywood, goes on crazily with George and makes up with Jerry.

JUNIOR PLAY

BEWARE THE IDES OF MARCH ! And well might you have taken that warning, for that evening the Juniors presented their dramatic success, "The Ghost Train."

In a lonely countryside, a train is stalled. Its passengers have to take refuge in a rickety railway station for the night. The passengers are: Miss Bourne (Ruth Hinchcliffe), a spinster with a parrot; Elsie Winthrop, and her husband, Richard (Jeannette Donaldson and Frank Clair), who are on the verge of a separation because Elsie is so completely independent; newlyweds, Peggy and Charles Murdock (Lucille Eidel and Ward Kelley), who try to keep their recent marriage a secret, but don't succeed; and Freddie Deakin (George Scannell), an ass of an Englishman, who turns out to be not quite such an ass.

The station master, Saul (Dawson Askin), tries to frighten the people with a ghostly tale of a horrible wreck on that particular line, and how the ghost train rides by every night at eleven, the time of the accident, although there is no train scheduled. He succeeds in frightening them and Freddie is forced to give Miss Bourne a drink from his flask, since she is petrified. Miss Bourne drinks the whole flask and becomes slightly foggy. They lay her out on a table, and decide to brave the ghost train. They stay there all night, and the station master leaves them alone.

A girl in evening clothes rushes in and begs them to hide her. She says she is Julia Price (Eleanor Dibble), and is being forced to return home against her wishes. Then Herbert Price (Robert Karpan), and John Sterling (David Woog), enter and explain that Julia has been driven mad by seeing the ghost train. They beg that the passengers leave the station, but they cannot because of Miss Bourne. Suddenly, the lights dim, and the ghost train rushes through! Julia Price faints, but two officers (Thomas Hopkins and Henry Greenstein), and a detective (Robert Kreusser), rush in and grab Price, Sterling, Saul and Julia.

The amazed passengers learn that Freddie is a Scotland Yard man, after those people for dope smuggling, and this ghost story about the train was invented to keep people from noticing that they were running narcotics on the trains. Elsie learns that she is not quite as independent as she thought, and she is happy with Richard.

The tension was relieved by the comic antics of Freddie, who was believed to be a fool.

On the whole this production was a very enjoyable one, and the Juniors are to be congratulated on their success.

CLASS COMPETITION NIGHT

HE original Class Night was started in 1924 by Mr. J. J. Carter, in order to raise money for girls' athletic equipment.

This First Night was such a huge success that it has been continued ever since. At first it consisted of competition in basketball, decorations, refreshments, ticket-selling, and cheering, but now it has been broadened to include posters, chapel skits, and checking.

Although the class of '35 have never had the honor of receiving the trophy, they have always been a close runner-up. This year they had the pleasure of seeing the diminutive Freshmen snatch the cup and climb to victory. The class of '38 did not get off to a good start, but they soon showed the other classes that they were out to accomplish something—which they did.

Well done Frosh—well done—keep it up!

BAND

HE BAND is the pride and joy of Lynbrook High School. Under the most able direction of Mr. Robert Borst, the band has worked hard until this year their fifth concert was acclaimed the best. At this concert Professor Norville C. Church, the head of the music department at Columbia, conducted a selection and in finishing complimented our band very highly.

The band officers of this year are: President, Wally Petersen; Vice-president, Baird Gould; Secretary, Robert Travis; Treasurer, Frank Frederick.

The other members of the band are: Oboe - C. Foodim, H. Spiegel; Flute - J. Bottstein; Bassoon - E. Yaxis; Clarinet - H. Winkler, S. Kurland, V. Spitalen, B. Buchenan, L. Springer, W. Stumpe, M. Behre, K. Laucella, H. Raff; Saxophone - M. Homme, I. Daigen, J. Charvot, S. Beckmann, R. Abouof; Trumpet - L. Ott, E. Gould, F. Frederick, C. Gould, F. Gibney, H. Lengyel, F. Walsh, W. Laucella; Alto Horn - P. Spiegel, W. Ackerson, A. Andreadis, R. Ingle, S. Van Suilder, J. Tagg; Euphonium - H. Tagg, A. Yaxis; Trombone - E. Erickson, A. Migrano, V. Ackerson, L. Rosono, R. ORCHESTRA

HE ORCHESTRA, under the very able baton of Mr. Vernon G. House, was one of the highlights of this year. Because of a lack of violinists, who had graduated, Mr. House was forced to choose an entirely different class of musical selections for the orchestra to play, while he worked hard with a group of young violinists to prepare them for the Senior Orchestra.

This year saw the inauguration of popular music as the score of selections for the senior and junior plays. This idea was a tremendous success with the audience and will probably be carried out to the delight of the students.

Mr. House guarantees the highest type of selections for next year with the return of most of his orchestra.

The members are: Violins - S. Kurland, C. Foodim, F. Dalton, B. Werner, S. Abouaf, A. Kaplan, S. Huntington, C. Bates, A. Andreadis, M. De Mott, I. Scharfenberg, L. Booke, R. Foster, A. Bohunowsky; Piano - E. Yaxis; Clarinets - H. Winkler, L. Springer; Trumpets - B. Gould, F. Fredericks; Saxophone - I. Daigen, W. Petersen, R. Travis; Drums - A. Bender; Trombone - H. Tagg; Fuphonium - A. Yaxis; Souzaphone - J. Donlon.

BOYS' HI-Y

IN THE second year of their existence the Boys' Hi-Y Club has accomplished much more than was expected of them. Mr. Johnson, the most prominent figure in the organization of the Club, has been maintained as councilor with the following students as officers: President - Wally Petersen, Vice-President - Thomas Davis, Secretary - Luther Kirsch, Treasurer - John Moore, Sergeant-at-Arms - John Folan.

The Hi-Y sponsored two very successful dances. Throughout the term there were numerous speakers at meetings to discuss vocations, etc., besides the regular business meetings and occasional socials. The last social activity of the year was a father-and-son banquet, at which there were prominent speakers.

Early in April the Club decided to start a second chapter in Lynbrook High, due to the increased desire of boys to join. A slate of officers to act under the advisorship of Mr. Milton Olson, who seemed to fit right into his job, were: President - John Folan, Vice-President - Charles Dwyer, Secretary - Roy Wood, Treasurer - Gerald Sealy, Sergeant-at-Arms - Nelson Edgerton. Hubert Stevenson was elected to the place of Sergeant-at-Arms to fulfill the vacancy left by John Folan.

We all join in wishing the Hi-Y Clubs more success next year.

GIRLS' HI-Y

HE GIRLS' HI-Y CLUB started this year by having an open meeting to explain the standards of the Club and to invite five new members: Lillian Powell, Lucille Eidel, Grace O'Brien, Virginia Gerhardt, and Betty Oakley.

Under the advisorship of Miss Marjorie Swarthout, new officers were elected, as follows: Jeanette Donaldson, President; Louise McIntyre, Vice-President; Irene Sweeney, Treasurer; and Amelia Tschan, Secretary. Following the business session of each meeting, the Club is presented with an outside speaker or has an informal discussion on a current topic, and occasionally the boys and girls have joint meetings. Outside of the meetings the Club conducts welfare work under the direction of Irene Sweeney, head of the student Red Cross and welfare work in the high school. Twelve Thanksgiving baskets were distributed to the needy families in Lynbrook.

The girls' and boys' clubs ran two dances, one in September, the other in March. Both were very successful. A Mothers' and Daughters' Banquet was planned for the month of May.

The Club will lose sixteen valuable members this June and gain sixteen new girls, in the fall, who we hope will carry on the ideals of the Club as well as will those who must leave us.

RIDING CLUB

OR several years the Lynbrook High School Riding Club has been gaining more and more popularity. However, without a doubt, this year's has been the strongest. The first meeting of the Riding Club was held early in October. The officers elected were: President, Sidney Kurland; Vice-President, Virginia Wingert; Secretary, Robert Travis; Acting Secretary, Pearl Karp; Faculty Advisor, Mrs. Kinne. The Club rode regularly each Monday and Thursday, until the blizzard, when it was impossible to clear the bridle path. However, undaunted by the elements and a late Spring, when the activities of the Club were resumed, the number of riders that turned out was overwhelming.

As the season progressed and the riders became more experienced, the "croppers" became fewer and fewer. By the end of the season every member who had started the year with the Club could not only handle a mount, but could also do it correctly.

The regular rides of the Club were interspersed with paper chases, which were greeted enthusiastically by the riders.

Those interested in having a good time as well as learning how to ride are urged to don boots and jodphurs and meet us on the bridle path.

LEADERS' CORPS

THE LEADERS' CORPS was introduced in Lynbrook High School, for the purpose of investing students with leadership powers, also with further prospects of organizing student government. Though student government has not been attempted, leadership has progressed so advantageously, that it has aided the present freshmen in establishing a firm foundation on which to build their future school activities and studies.

The new system in effect is that of the counselor nature. Last June a number of upper classmen, rating high in their studies, were appointed by Mr. Schubert, each to supervise a freshman, that is to suggest extra curriculum activities, to advise him in his studies, to look over his monthly reports and keep in touch with him throughout his Freshmen year.

In order to promote this system, the girls Hi-Y held a sister social, which was attended by all Hi-Y members and their "sister" freshmen.

DRAMATICS

FEW organizations in school can boast of having as many active members as the Dramatic Club. The splendid work of this Club is particularly commendable when we consider that it is only in its fourth year.

This organization very ably shouldered the burden of entertaining the student body with Friday afternoon programs, and it is due to their efforts that the assembly atmosphere has become more delightful with the passing time.

This year due to lack of time, the Dramatic Club will not have its Annual Dramatic Class Night, but instead plans to have a social among its own group. It is also planned that the Club will go to several plays that are being presented in nearby playhouses.

It is well to say a word about our true administrator of affairs, Miss Lampman. For these four years she has carefully and painfully guided the future Gables and Garbos to the shores of success. Her helping has caused us to gain confidence and assurance in our ability and we deeply appreciate the time and assistance she has sacrificed for the success of our dramatic endeavor.

PRESS CLUB

RADUATION last June left the Press Club with a meager staff and it was necessary this year to start from "scratch". A new staff of twenty seniors, juniors, and sophomores began its journalistic career by writing for the "Nassau Daily Star" the "Lynbrook High Lights". This column was invaluable in describing our school activities to the people of Lynbrook.

Before Christmas vacation the staff revived the "Clarion Bulletin". For this work the members of the Press Club were divided into the following groups:

Editor-in-Chief	HERMINA RAFF
Columnists	GEORGE SCANNELL—the originator of "Tidbits", JACQUELINE VILLA, MADELINE CAPPARELLI.
Special Features	SYDNEY KURLAND, JANE SCHULTZ

THE RIFLE CLUB

EARLY in the school year a number of boys in the high school expressed a desire to reorganize a Rifle Club. At the organization meeting, Edward Haas was elected President; Robert Chester, Treasurer; and Thomas Dalton, Secretary.

During the fall months temporary outdoor ranges were used for practice. During the winter months the range was in the basement of the local Baptist Church. Some work has been done toward acquiring a permanent outdoor range to be used when weather permits.

A triangular shoot was held with the Far Rockaway and Valley Stream schools and later a duel match was held with the Valley Stream High School team. Our Rifle Team, composed of Edward Haas, Dale Alexander, Donald Campbell, Roy Wood, Martin Burdick, and George Peterson, made a fine record.

Dale Alexander's work with the rifle has been particularly outstanding. Edward Haas's work in organizing the Club is worthy of high commendation.

The boys and Mr. Olson as a faculty adviser feel that a good foundation has been laid for future successful rifle clubs.

ARCHERY

ON NOVEMBER 17, 1934, Carl G. Thompson, several times holder of the Eastern Midwestern, Metropolitan, and several state championships, gave an interesting talk and demonstration on archery to a large group of enthusiastic students and coaches of the South Shore schools. This was meant to promote archery as a minor sport among the schools and it served its purpose well, for archery clubs were started immediately.

Our club has been especially fortunate in being able to work under the expert supervision and coaching of Miss Budd, holder of the Women's Championship and Handicap Championship of the Center Archers Club of Rockville Center. Miss Budd has won several other trophies.

Thirty members of the Archery Club, including both the boys' and girls' teams, have been shooting all winter and this spring competed with the following schools: South Side, Valley Stream, Baldwin, Woodmere, Garden City, Port Washington, Lindenhurst, Great Neck, Newton, and Richmond Hill. Miss Budd reports that the beginners have shown remarkable skill this year, bringing in higher scores than many of the veteran archers of two and three years. The officers of the club are as follows: President - Alex Yaxis, Vice-President - Lotte Jungmeier, Secretary - Henry Greenstein.
